

unmasked

the strength of vulnerability in the workplace

LIFE@WORK

Life@Work Conference | CANBERRA March 13-14 2020

CITY BIBLE
FORUM+

*“Our society is based on the masks that we wear”
(Australian author - John Marsden)*

The workplace can be a dog-eat-dog world. Any hint of weakness or vulnerability is quickly sniffed out. So while we all carry burdens and troubles, workplace culture demands that we wear a mask and cover it up. Yet at the same time our culture prizes authenticity. We live in a time of “you do you”. And for the Christian, we know that it’s often in sharing our burdens and weaknesses that the way is opened up to conversations about the bigger questions of life. So imagine if Christians in the workplace were marked by an honest vulnerability. The kind of people who didn’t hide our weaknesses. And in doing so we bore witness to the One who gives us our true strength. What if we were UNMASKED?

Join us at the 2020 Life@Work conference as we discover how only the Christian faith helps us take off the mask and be real with our colleagues, both for our good and theirs, and ultimately for God’s glory.

Dr Michael Spence AC
Vice Chancellor and Principal
University of Sydney

Andrew Laird
Life@Work
National Manager
City Bible Forum

Alison Halpin
Deputy General Manager,
People & Culture, Corporate
Division of Sport Australia

Lynne Pezzullo
Lead Partner of Health
Economics & Social Policy
Deloitte Asia Pacific

Date & Times:

March 13 2020
6:00pm - 8:15pm

March 14 2020
10:00am - 12:30pm

Venue:

St Mark’s National Theological Centre
15 Blackall Street
Barton

register now

lifeatwork.org.au/conference